Supplies:

- 1 small, transparent plastic bottle or spice jar, with a lid
- Rainbow glitter
- 10-15 shiny pennies

Directions:

- Pour a ½- inch thick layer of glitter in the jar.
- Drop the pennies in the jar. Counting out loud as you go teaches your child that numbers follow a sequence.
- Close the jar tight.

Now you've got a pot of "gold" to discover in a rainbow of glitter. When you shake the jar, you can watch the glitter and the coins fall inside the bottle and listen to the pennies clinking together.
